

PRATUM PRAIRIE TRAIL

Designed as a totally custom home for a rapidly growing internet security company in the highly desirable Prairie Trail area of Ankeny, IA, the Pratum offices house a company at the crossroads of cutting-edge technology and rock-solid stability. A prairie-style building was designed as a modern but timeless style with massive masonry walls to communicate stability and security. Fixed residential windows and a pitched roof worked within the modern aesthetic while economizing the building and achieving the owner's goals.
